The Panic are five guys from Bandung &ndash; Indonesia who rock. After speculations about the current status, it is confirmed that a new The Panic album is planned for 2010. About the album direction, Wansky told that each song displays its unique character as a balance between electronic and organic elements, rhythm and melody, aggression and atmosphere, simplicity and complexity, beauty and the beast. The album will redefine the term &lsquo;experimental&rsquo; in its true sense, but yet listeners will find it accessible and digestible.

Stay tuned with the news.
